About Eklavya Literary Research Foundation

Eklavya Literary Research Foundation (ELRF), Andhra Pradesh, India is a non-profit organisation (NPO), registered under the Ministry of SME, Government of India, and ISO (9001:2005) certified. It strives to quench the thirst for precise support and encouragement to the research scholars and academicians of English language and literature.

The Eklavya Literary Research Foundation derives its name and spirit from one of the most inspiring figures in Indian mythology - Eklavya, the devoted archer from the Mahabharata. Eklavya represents the power of self-learning, unwavering dedication, and the pursuit of excellence even in the absence of formal guidance or institutional support.

The foundation was established to honour that ethos — to provide a platform for literary and academic research that values independent thought, scholarly sincerity, and inclusive intellectual growth. By choosing the name Eklavya, we pay homage to all self-learners, unsung scholars, and those who seek wisdom beyond traditional boundaries.

Today, the Eklavya Literary Research Foundation stands as a beacon for literary scholars, educators, and students who believe in the transformative power of knowledge and understanding come through hard work, effort, and self-motivation — not just from being handed information or relying solely on formal systems.

About Conference

The International Conference on Interdisciplinary Approaches to Literature, Environment and Climate Change seeks to critically engage with the converging concerns of ecological sustainability and literary scholarship. It aims to provide a dynamic platform for academicians, researchers, and practitioners to explore how literature and allied disciplines respond to pressing environmental challenges such as climate change, ecological degradation, and sustainability. Through keynote lectures and scholarly presentations, participants will gain deeper insights into literature not only as a reflective medium, but also as an agent of ecological awareness, critical thinking, and social transformation.
