Organized
Field Visit to NIELIT, Ropar
On
21st October, 2024

The PG Department of Computer Science, in collaboration with the Institution's Innovation Council (IIC), successfully organized a one-day workshop on "AIoT" (Artificial Intelligence of Things) at NIELIT, Ropar, on 21st October 2024. The workshop saw enthusiastic participation from 35 students across MCA, MSc (AI & DS), BCA, and BSc (Hons.) AI & DS programs. The event began with an insightful lecture on Artificial Intelligence of Things, delivered by Dr. Sarwan Singh, Joint Director at NIELIT, followed by a tour of NIELIT's labs, where students learned about the various facilities and types of projects handled by the institute. Principal Dr. Jasvir Singh commended the department for organizing the event and encouraged future initiatives. The workshop was coordinated by Prof. Tajinder Kaur, Prof. Paramjit Kaur, and Prof. Amandeep Kaur, under the guidance of Dr. Surender Kumar, Head of the PG Department of Computer Science, and Dr. Gurpreet Kaur, President of the IIC.

Objective: The objective of the one-day workshop on "AIoT" was to provide students with insights into Artificial Intelligence of Things, explore NIELIT's facilities, and enhance their understanding of AI applications in real-world projects.
Benefit: The benefit of the "AIoT" workshop was that it enhanced students' understanding of AI applications, provided exposure to NIELIT's advanced facilities, and offered practical insights into real-world projects.
